"Come, Follow Me."

The Sleeper.

The Smut-Reader.

"Leave me alone. I'm too tired to go to Your Mass, to receive Your Body and Blood every morning--even during Lent.....I know I can receive late, but.....Well, you know how it is when a guy's sleepy. I need sleep more than I need Your Sacrifice of the Mass.....I know You're present in the Blessed Sacrament; I know the Pope wants me to go every day. But, gee whizz, I have to have my sleep."

Your ideal should be: go to Communion at Mass. If you don't possess this high standard, go to Communion when it is most convenient. Remember, it is impossible to calculate the effect of one Communion less in your life.

A man degenerates when he satisfies all his cravings for ease and soft-living. "It is chiefly through intellectual and moral discipline, and the rejection of the habits of the herd that you will reconstruct yourself."

PRAYERS: (deceased) mother of Chuck O'Reilly (Walsh); father of Art Selna (Walsh); father of Jack Erhard (Cav); Mrs. Edw. Hines (friend of university). Ill, Mrs. Starlin; Jimmy Motschall (Dil); Bill Serele; Alvin Kolski '32. One thanksgiving. Six spec.int.

"Come, follow You? No thanks. I'd have to give up this smut....Read about you in the Gospel stories? Nope. I'd sooner read about lust in the devil's handbook. This stuff really doesn't hurt me, though. You've got to get up to date, Lord, and be broad-minded....Feast on Your Body and Blood? I'd sooner feast my soul on the flesh pots of Egypt...Come, and follow you! Not yet. You don't know me, Lord. I'm a gambler. I'm going to take a chance that you'll be around when I'm ready to kick the bucket....."

Warning! "You forget that every little thought and action of the common day makes or unmakes your character. And that what you have done in the secret chamber of your mind and heart, you must some day cry aloud on the housetop. You have ceased to be master over yourself. You have allowed pleasure to dominate you. You'll end in horrible disgrace."
