Get 'Em While They're Hot.

Now that the O.I. Boys have told the world where the hall of fame is, let's see them prove it.

Van Wallace came back to help beat Minnesota, also to repeat a lesson. He came on time to Sunday Mass. Some of you didn't. Simon, step on it.

You don't realize it, but getting up in the morning is sort of a tell-tale. If you're good at it, you show you're the boss. But if you can't drag your lazy bones off the mattress, you're a slave and your will's not set the right way to resist the other inclinations of lower nature. Take this for a sure bet: a consistent "No" to the pillow, morning after morning, will come in mighty handy when temptation beckons.

Overheard in the Cavanaugh "rec" room:
"Say, pretty snappy decorations over in Zahm, eh?" "Yeah, very appropriate-- the graveyard." What thinketh Zahm?

The Bulletin's not supposed to say anything bad about St. Ed's. Well, the boys should get a blow for those 92 Communions last Monday. But that's all collapsed.
Down to normal this morning with around 35. Sure, St. Ed's has been doing "lots" on the football field. We even think they could complete a pass from their hall to the Cavanaugh Chapel any morning till ten or nights, 7:30-9:45. Only thing is, they haven't attempted it yet! Second down, twenty to go. Try that forward.

Wanted: A spelling teacher for the S.A.C.
"WHOSE NEXT?"

COMING SOON: "The Saints of Notre Dame;" "King Baltassar and the Holy Ghost," "Why We Get Up In The Morning," "The Temple of God," and "Integral Catholicism."

PLAYERS: (critically ill) Judge Thos. E. McKern (Los Angeles) member of first football team.

From the locks of the Communion figures yesterday and today, everyone must have "gone to town" after the game. If it's true God ordained Sunday, the devil invented Saturday night. Don't let a football victory knock you down like tin soldiers.

The way to make progress is NOT to make the same old mistakes. That means don't do it again this weekend, n'est-ce pas?

The McGutzky vote ran 530 for, 102 against.
Counting freshmen votes at half-value, Mac rolled a good 83%. Spice and Pepper hit 94%. So both, with Time, will march on.

It's fine the way you've been rallying behind your friend in time of bereavement.
When one of you loses a Mother or Father, the Others have always had Masses said, lighted Grotto candles and prayed. Better still, though, to have the Mass said, assist at it personally and receive. That's really giving.

One happy man this morning made his First Holy Communion. He's far better off, after a slow start, than the life-long Catholics on campus who haven't yet made their First Communion this fall.

To the $250.66 total last acknowledged for Boys Town now add: Morrissey Hall (left over from the decoration fund), $1.30; Brownson Hall (extra), $1.00; and a man from a white-collar hall $.25; which makes the new final $252.21. Fund closes tonight. After this all donations should be sent directly to Boys Town, Nebraska.
