S.O.S.! Help! Help!

They are in distress again! the two N.D. grads who are running the House of Hospitality in town. They are offering not only food and shelter but companionship and a Christian home atmosphere to needy men, the homeless, the poor and transients seeking work. Funds are dwindling and there is no end of business - between 80 and 100 men are fed daily and an average of 40 to 50 sleep in the hospice every night. The two grads share the life of the poor. They live with them, eat with them, help them. Here's a cause worthy of your charity.

On Tuesday night a collection will be taken up for this home - called Sts. John and Paul's Hospice. Put a little cash aside now. Give up that malted tonight. Get your pals to join you in this sacrifice. Put the money in a caboodle ready for the collector when he raps at your door. This is Holy Week. Give your offering out of love for the suffering Savior and for the needy brothers of Christ.

A number of generous students have volunteered to spend an evening collecting your offerings for the Hospice. The Bulletin enthusiastically leads off the drive with $10.00 from its Poor Fund.

Rockne - - Nicholson.

Notre Dame can't forget this week. For within it falls the anniversaries of the death of two of Her beloved coaches - Rockne (March 31, 1931) and Nicholson (April 2, 1940), track coach for many years.

Masses will be offered for them this week in Dillon Chapel at 7:10. Tomorrow (Tuesday) the Mass will be for "Rock" and on Wednesday for Coach Nicholson. Both these men merit a remembrance in your prayers. Few of you knew them, but all of you profit even today from their skill and the glory they brought to Our Lady's school.
