Seniors And Ball Guests. . .

10:00 Sunday Mass - main aisle, both sides, reserved for you.
10:05 Mass in the Basement - for overflow in the Upper Church.
No 9:45 Mass in the Basement - this Sunday only.
Come on time.

Seniors: You and your Ball guest may have problems to solve, maybe a decision to make about marriage. Both of you need God's grace for your daily needs. So be sure you visit Our Lady at the Grotto, and on Friday and Saturday slip into the Church for a few moments of adoration before Christ.

Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors.

You can see that the 10:00 Mass will be crowded if the regular congregation and visitors gather at the last Mass. You are asked to perform the kindness of attending an earlier Mass this Sunday, leaving the last Mass for the Seniors and their guests. This is a courtesy underclassmen should grant readily in view of the fact that they will want the same favor shown them on the occasion of their own Ball week-end.

Quiz-Kids.

You probably saw in the newspapers where a little twelve year old lad, "watery-eyed and moody" just killed his stepfather and stepmother because of some rebuke or discipline administered to him last fall. The youngster hid to do his shooting, of course, and never appeared in the open.

You can understand better from this example the minor exhibition of grammar school antics given by some of our "quiz-kids" on various occasions, especially the "sissies" at the Gym the other night, the only blot on the excellent conduct of the student body as a whole. The older, mature gentlemen of the campus should exhibit leadership and control the immature kids.

We're In The Red $700.00

It costs a pretty penny to keep the pamphlet racks up to date for you. The only source of income is the offering you drop into the box at the rack and the Sunday collections. We are in the hole, and now we must ask you to be a little more generous in the Sunday collections for a while. Give a dime or so extra to the Sunday collection even though it pinches, not only because you have taken pamphlets, but as an act of gratitude for the blessings of the year and for a successful exam session.

Men of Carroll And Brownson. . .

If you are awakened early Saturday morning by the strains of heavenly music, don't think you have passed through the Heavenly Gates and are being welcomed by choirs of angels. On St. Mark's day every year there is a procession of the Holy Cross religious from the church to the Crucifixion group on St. Joseph's lake and back. The Litany of the Saints is chanted during the procession. This is a day of reparation set aside for asking Our Lady and the Saints to obtain for us freedom from the scourges of God and blessings on the crops and ourselves.

PRAYERS: (Deceased) aunt of R. Haley (B-P); father of John Gooch (Bro); mother of Ed Holland (Dil). Eight special intentions.
