The Procession.

Christ certainly must have been pleased with your great demonstration of faith, gratitude and love towards Him by your presence at the Corpus Christi Mass and procession. The public honor you showed Christ in the Sacrament of His love will bring you many blessings. Moreover, by this manifestation of devotion to Christ at the beginning of Notre Dame's second century of existence you have merited many graces for the students who will follow you. Keep this love of Christ at white heat.

Swimmers!

The other day at the pier it was observed that few of the swimmers wore scapular medals. Pick up a medal and chain at the office of the Prefect of Religion. These medals are blessed. This means that the Church has prayed God to grant special blessings and protection to the wearer.

Get Rid Of Those Worries.

See a priest about your problems. Try to get peace of mind immediately. If it's a problem of your soul, of sin, and you need confession, get there tonight. Press the buzzer in Dillon, Cavanaugh or Breen-Phillips.

The Heat.

Make the best of it. If it makes you miserable, tell Christ you willingly accept the suffering for His sake. This is the month of the Sacred Heart. You should make reparation to Christ by a cheerful acceptance of the upsets of the day: the heat, difficult classes, a poor round of golf, embarrassments. Learn "to take" the little things and then when the time comes to make a big sacrifice, you will be prepared to make it.

Golfers!

You can't leave the commandments on the first tee. Honor God's name. Refrain from cursing, count all your strokes. On the positive side - practice patience when the dubs ahead slow up the game. Practice charity - give up your position and let the oncoming party through when you are lost deep in the rough, or elsewhere.
