

Nations have forgotten this scene. Many individuals no longer remember that memorable night in Bethlehem. Yet the remembrance of this scene will warm every foxhole, will dry the tears of those fathers and mothers and sweethearts whose dear ones are at war, will give light to the sinner who has been lost on the dark road of sin. Join the shepherds at the crib, for there you will find the peace that surpasses all understanding.

May the Infant King and Saviour fill you with the abundance of His Light, Hope and Grace on His Birthday and throughout the year!
