Well Done.

The Memorial Services were most impressive. The members of the various Service units are to be commended for their fine spirit of cooperation, particularly the leaders and those whose responsible role demanded time and efficient planning. Special commendation is due Marine Gunner Banashek, Commander of Troops for the occasion, for his masterful work of organization and direction. Participation in the Memorial Mass and ceremonies was a manifestation of charity towards dead comrades. God pays a great reward for the practice of this virtue.

The Questionnaire.

The semester grind is almost over. You have been through the mill: drill, classes, daily quizzes, extra duty. The past few months have taught you many lessons. The new students who will arrive in July can profit from your experiences. Will you pass them on to them? They can learn from your mistakes and they can progress more rapidly from tips based on your life with the textbooks, temptation and with military and academic discipline. Consider the Questionnaire a chance to perform an act of charity. It will be placed in your room Friday.

The questionnaire asks short answers on a number of items. No long essays are required. Here are samples of the questions: "What do you advise incoming students about drinking? . . . about studies? . . . about girls? . . . "If you had the chance to start your life at Notre Dame again, what changes would you make?" "How would a new man go about picking his friends?"

All this is to be done anonymously, of course. DO NOT SIGN YOUR NAME. Say what you want to say in your own way. Try to fill out the Questionnaire over the weekend. The time you spend on it will be well worth the effort for you and for others. Fill out the sheet and drop it into the Questionnaire Box near the Pamphlet Rack in your hall.

Prayer and study bring success in examinations. Hit the books now. The Novena for Examinations will begin on the feast of Corpus Christ, June 8 and end nine days later on the feast of the Sacred heart.

Late Afternoon Communion For Servicemen.

League ball games may keep you away from the 5:00 P.M. Mass. You can still receive Holy Communion after Mass up to 6:15 P.M. in Dillon Hall Chapel. Don't miss the graces of Communion simply because you cannot be present for the Mass.

Your weekend was filled with pleasure. Why not assist at Mass in gratitude?

Friday is First Friday.

The entire month of June is dedicated to the Sacred Heart. Add some extra devotion to Christ this month. The Litany of the Sacred Heart and an Act of Reparation can be found in the Notre Dame Prayerbook.
