

For the Novena:
rosary, visit to Grotto,
besides Mass and Communion.

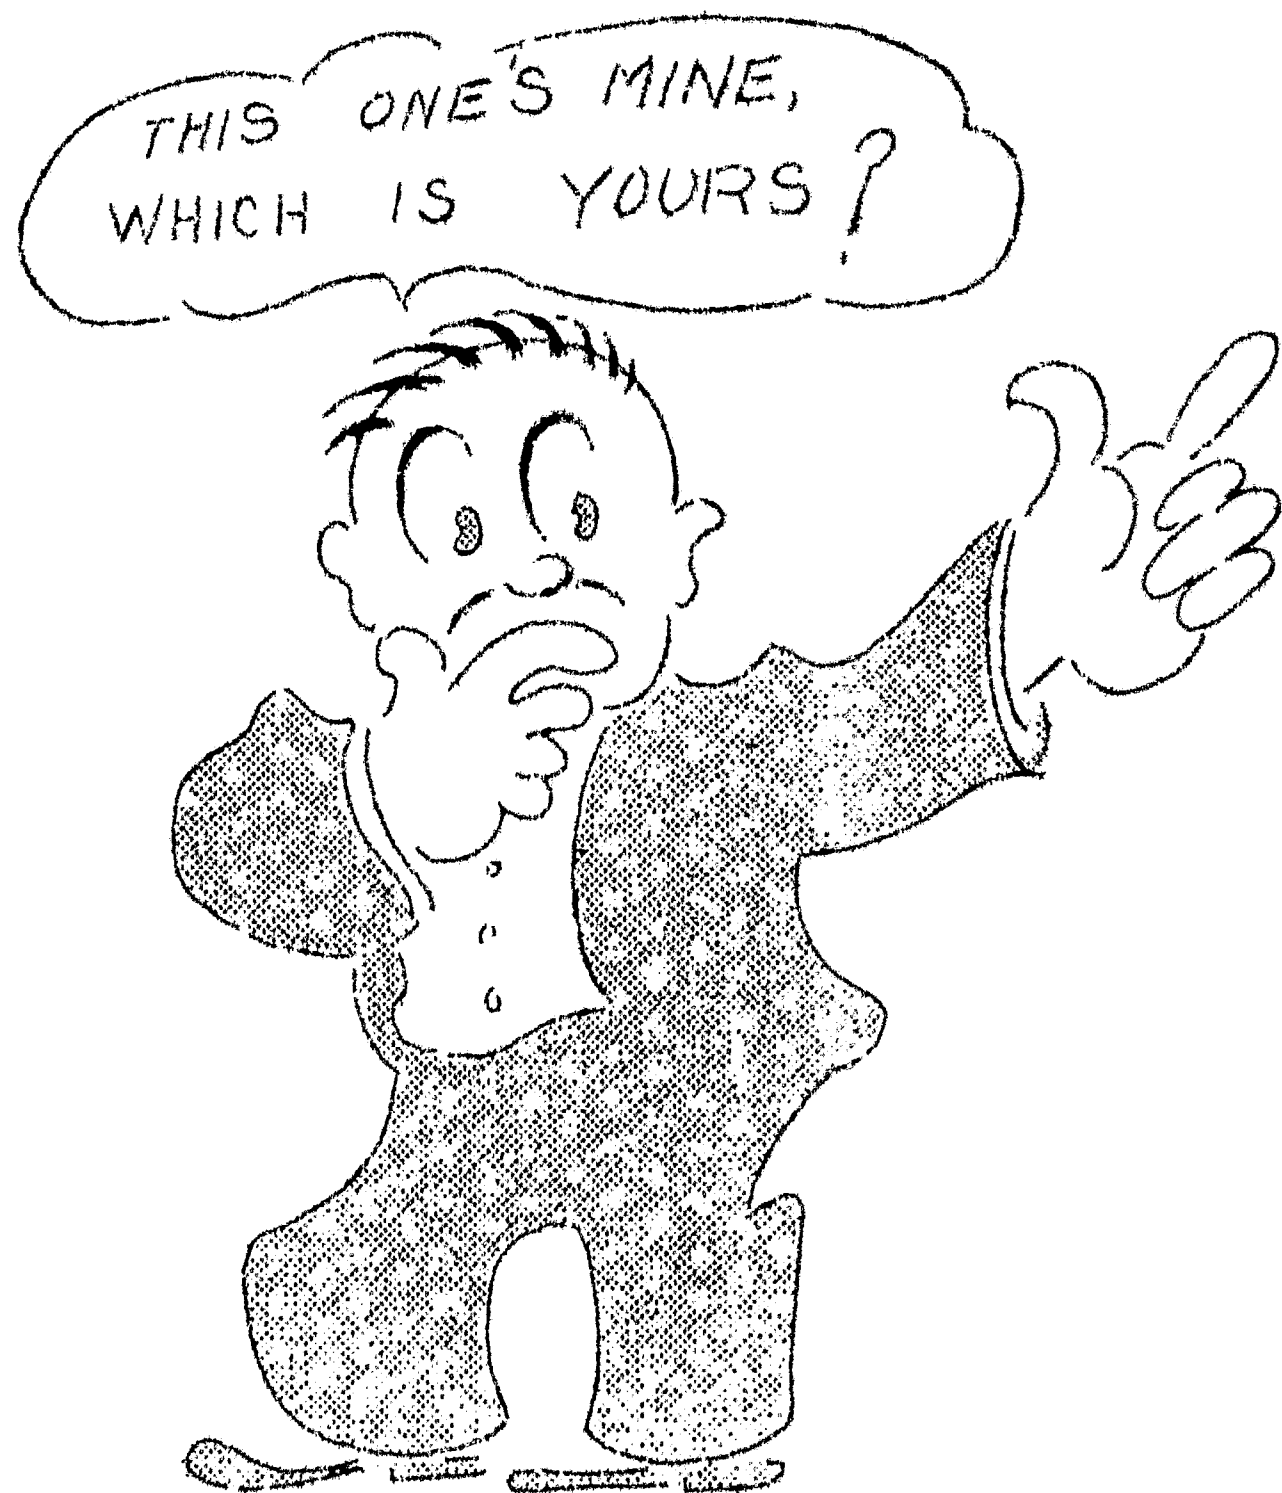

University of Notre Dame
Religious Bulletin
May 21, 1946

If you are to be married soon, write to the bride and ask her to join you.

A Happy Marriage.

Some young men make a terrible mistake. They think that happiness in marriage is assured by marrying a good girl, a Catholic, faithful and pure, home-loving and full of the spirit of sacrifice. That's a lop-sided view. You can marry a saint and yet unhappiness could enter your life. Why? Because marriage demands teamwork. The bride can't do all the pulling. The groom must do his part. The husband must be virtuous; he must try to correct his faults and practice self-control. Weakness in character can bring many unhappy moments to you, your wife and your children. Now, before marriage, is the time to begin the practice of uprooting your faults. That's why it is most sensible for you to make the Novena for a Happy Marriage. Through these nine days of prayer, God will bring you a good wife and will make you a good husband.

Here is a list of faults that students had pointed out to them by their friends. You will find your own faults among them. Pick out your weakness and pray over it.

Stinginess
A tendency to be a general nuisance
Inconsistency
Thoughtlessness
Lack of application
Untruthfulness
Grouchiness
Crabbing
Lack of Initiative
Carelessness
Boorishness
Irresponsibility
Critical spirit
Jealousy
Boastfulness
Intemperance
Impurity
Vanity
Lack of confidence
Unsociability
Impulsiveness
Hastiness
Inclination to gamble
Aloofness
Prodigality
Deceitfulness
Lack of respect
Slovenliness
Moodiness
Wordliness
Snap-judgment
Recklessness
Unreliability
Crepe-hanging
Unappreciative attitude

PRAYERS: (deceased) father of Governor Kelly of Michigan, former Pres. ND Alumni Assoc.; Billy Latz, friend of Pat Swingle (D11). (Ill) son of Dan Nolan, '23 and nephew of Mrs. Schubmehl; Father McGinn, CSC; Bud Mulvey, operation. Two Spec. Ints.