

HOW MANY BIRDS WITH THIS STONE?

Thought During Midsemester Exams.

"As we become permanent drunkards by so many separate drinks, so we become saints in the moral, and authorities and experts in the practical and scientific spheres, by so many separate acts and hours of work. Let no youth have any anxiety about the upshot of his education, whatever the line of it may be. If he keeps faithfully busy each hour of the working day, he may safely leave the result to itself. Young people should know this truth in advance. The ignorance of it has probably engendered more discouragement and faint-heartedness in youths embarking on arduous careers than all other causes put together."

"Sow an act, reap a habit,
Sow a habit, reap a character,
Sow a character, reap a destiny."
