The Life Companion

If you want a happy life
Don't pick up your future wife
From a night club, or you'll pay a frightful toll;
Look for her in some nice place
Where she's wearing her own face
And where you can get a side glimpse of her soul.

Do not wed a powderpuff
Who's made up of frills and fluff
Or your life will be a headache to the end;
Get a girl whose views are sound,
Who has both feet on the ground,
And upon whose common sense you can depend.

College students never fail
When from the Communion rail
They select the girl their children will call mother;
She's the kind of girl who wears
Through life's conflicts and its cares,
She's a soul mate and there isn't any other.

She will kneel with you and pray
At the close of every day.
And she'll teach your little ones to love their God;
And she'll climb life's hills with you
Whether skies be gray or blue,
Till she sleeps with you at last beneath the sod. (T.E.B.)

Tune In -- WND -- Tonight, 7:15 P.M.
(630 on dial)

This evening the campus radio station will feature the Moreau Seminary Choir in a half hour of Holy Week music, beginning at 7:15. The program will be made up of selections which will be chanted at the Tenebrae services next week. At Tenebrae psalms describing the sufferings of Christ and the Lamentations or the Prophet Jeremias' pleadings with his people to return to God are chanted. The Moreau Choir will sing, in four-part music, a number of these Tenebrae prayers. This Holy Week music is among the most beautiful and striking in the Liturgy of the Church.

A Powerful Saint

Teresa of Avila, one of the great Spanish saints, used to say that she never knew St. Joseph to disregard her prayers. Tomorrow, the annual March feast of St. Joseph, will be a day of generous giving for this Saint, so ask him for many blessings among them---

- no war, no persecution of the Church.
- happiness in marriage
- a happy death
- the conversion of Russia

PRAYERS: (deceased) Arthur W. Ryan, '14 (Toledo); Two Special Intentions.
(critically ill) Father Casimir Czaplicki, CSC, former religion professor.
