Ping.....Pong.

Ping: "The way the congrats were announced two Sundays ago for those who made the missions was unfair. You slighted the sophomores. Why shouldn't the freshmen have a good turnout? They're freshmen. Juniors, seniors and grads may have had the quantity too. But the sophomores. What quality!" (A Soph)

Pong: "Across the finish line: Juniors, seniors, grads--win; freshmen--place; sophomores--show. Put your dough on a thoroughbred, Buddy. Of course the sops who made the mission had quality. Nine out of ten were engineers. When you want something well done around here give it to the hard-working students--the engineers!"

Ping: "I'm new on the campus but I thought the prefects of religion would be older priests, more experienced.....What's their real purpose anyhow? (A Zahmite)

Pong: "Thanks for the left-handed compliment, Bub. We keep young by associating with the likes of you. But, to tell you the truth, we're really getting old trying to keep up with you.....Our real purpose--putting it on the line--is to comfort the afflicted and to afflict the comfortable--that is, if their comfortableness means not fulfilling their religious duties at a Catholic university."

Ping: "My junior date last Friday (September 23) took me to dinner, then to the wonderful football rally. Sunday both of us went to the 10:10. But I want to tell you my boyfriend is not a nominal Notre Dame man, even if he didn't make the mission. A finer gentleman, I've never met. Can't one get enough religion after three years at Notre Dame? I don't blame him for being filled up." (Hazel)

Pong: "Sorry I couldn't answer your note last week, but it deserves an answer. Your pet squirrel just thinks he's filled up. Wait till he's filled up the cavity between his ears. Ask him next Friday if he made the novena for the sick. Maybe he should have. Get the point, dearie?"

"What? Could You Not Watch One Hour With Me?"

"The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.".....Volunteers are needed to sign up for the most difficult half-hours--between 8 and 10 a.m.; between 2 and 4 p.m. Among 3400 students there ought to be more than a few who are willing to take these half-hours simply because they are difficult. Sign up and do penance for those who will not do penance for their sins.

Where Oh Where?

Had your telelastic. Father Joseph Berry, C.S.C., is now recruiting vocations for the congregation. He lives at Holy Cross College across the lake from the log chapel....Father William Craddock, C.S.C., is novice master for the Indiana Province and lives at Laurel Mount Novitiate, 3122 Miami Blvd., South Bend. He is taking care of right of the house and maintenance of the community last August....Father Edward Adams, C.S.C., is vice-president of Portland University, Portland, Oregon. You may contact these priests at the addresses given.

The new statue of our lady of Lilies in Dillon Chapel was donated by Jules K. de la Vergne in memory of his brother, Dr. Pierre K. de la Vergne, S.J., '38, killed in the late war. Hisily remember him in your masses and prayers.
