

Note: basement chapel confession facilities--be there early, 6:30 p.m.....the

University of Notre Dame
Religious Bulletin
November 2, 1949

....confessor must leave by 7:15 p.m....(Next Friday is First Friday.)

The City of Pain.

Its name is Purgatory. Place--unknown by man. In this city everyone suffers severe pain, worse than any and all earthly torment. There's no let-up night or day.

Starting tomorrow morning--two novenas of nine masses each for Our Poor Souls. Write down the names of those you want remembered specially during the novenas. Drop your list into the boxes provided at Dillon and Cavanaugh pamphlet racks. These lists of your dead will be placed on the altars where the masses are to be said.

One novena will be offered in Dillon chapel; the other, in Cavanaugh. The suffering souls--perhaps your mother, father, brother, sister, or friend--depend completely upon your charity. Some day you, too, may be in Purgatory, the City of Pain. And some priest may be writing Bulletins to influence another student body to pray for you.

Still Time To Gain Plenary Indulgence For Your Dead.

Between noon of the Feast of All Saints and midnight of the Feast of the Poor Souls a plenary indulgence may be gained for a poor soul at each visit made in the main church or hall chapel. Here are the conditions: be in the state of grace; receive Communion, November 1 or 2; at each visit say 6 Our Fathers, 6 Hail Marys and 6 Glory-be-to-the-Father's for the intentions of the Pope. Those who received Holy Communion yesterday or today may gain this plenary indulgence for any designated soul in Purgatory. Visit your chapel tonight, not once, but several times.

Sign Up!

Read over the Special Religious Bulletin. Keep it on file. The registration book will be kept outside the offices of the Prefects of Religion--117 Dillon and 107 Cavanaugh.

Remember, there is no moral obligation to fulfill the conditions necessary in order to benefit from the Confraternity. But if you do want to receive the blessings and indulgences of the Confraternity, then you must say three rosaries each week.

The Bulletin is indebted to Father Charles Miltner, C.S.C., who translated the list of indulgences from the original document; to Father George Smith, O.P., who helped gather material on the Confraternity; to THE ROSARY THE CROWN OF MARY, published by THE APOSTOLATE OF THE ROSARY, 141 East 65th Street, New York City.

Servers Needed.

In the basement chapel, beneath the main church, more servers are needed for the morning masses. Only early birds willing to un-sack around 5:40 need apply. The masses begin at 6:00. Servers should know they participate in a particular way in the graces of the mass. Each priest remembers his server in a special memento.

Thanks Again.....And Now Y.C.S.

The Prefects of Religion commend the Liturgy Club for the generous way in which the members took care of October adoration. There were no adoration gaps--that's a record, son....The Y.C.S. has volunteered to take care of First Fridays and the Christmas novena for parents.

Prayers: (deceased) father of John Curran (Dil); brother of Rev. A. Hope, C.S.C.; cousin of Revs. R. Sheehan, C.S.C. & Ed. Hartnett, C.S.C.; father of Jim Coyle (V-V). Ill, child of Mr. & Mrs. P.A. Haney; brother of Rev. T. Engleton, C.S.C.; 13-year old D. Stevens (polio)--a Notre Dame enthusiast; sister of Walter Brennan, '40, (polio); friend of E. Marico (Ly).