"A Holy And Wholesome Thought"

Among members of the Notre Dame family, there is a tradition of charity in remembering the dead, the sick, the unfortunate. Be generous to those asking the charity of your prayers. Some far-off day, when you need help, somehow your need will be brought to our attention. And it will be a great comfort for you to know that another generation of Notre Dame men will kneel and pray for you -- just as you are asked to do now.

The past summer was not free of tragedy in the lives of Notre Dame men and their families. For some death came suddenly; for others, gently and with due warning. Listed below are notices that have been received by the Bulletin:

Noel Gottesman, '47, '48 and John Yaeger '40 (TWA-United crash); sister of Thomas Beacom (Lay Trustee); Michael Donahue '92; mother of Andrew Kata '31; mother of Helen Prebys (NROTC offices); father of Jim Flowers; G. A. Busch '29; Dr. Francis T. Gannon, '31; Daniel J. Lamont, '24; Phil Walker, '36 (Venezuelan plane crash); Willard H. Chester, '14; E. P. Carville, '09; wife of Bob Cook, '36; Joseph B. Slaine, '24; mother of William Langlois, '53; mother of William B. Jones, '28; John J. Klocke, ex '49; father of Tony Earley, Jr. '47; mother of Bob Flannery, '48; Robert J. Hanley, Jr., '34; George P. Heneghan, '22; wife of Bill Herber, '48; father of George Brautigan, '29; father of George Coury, '28; Francis E. McGuire, '35; William E. Foley, '21; father of Tom Mariani (Senior); mother of Bob Kestelot, '56; father of Paul Romweber, '25; Norb Christman, '32; Francis E. Why Read The "Bulletin" ?

Don't get the idea that the Bulletin is intended for the local saints. As a matter of fact, it is meant rather for the "Not-So-Holy Joe" that you consider yourself to be. That's why you should read every issue.

The whole idea here at Notre Dame is that, while you absorb the wisdom of the world, you must also get to know Our Lord better. Really, that's why you were created -- to know, love, and serve Him, and so be happy with Him forever in Eternity.

If you fail in that one objective, then you will have failed utterly in your life.

The fact is: you can't be happy without Him -- either in this life or in the next.

You don't have to be a "fanatic" to love God. Actually; "cranks" don't really love anyone; all they do is put on a big show.

At Notre Dame, God expects you to be -- or become -- a full-time Catholic. And if you don't know how to go about doing that, the Bulletin will help you. It is a daily blueprint for right living. Occasionally you'll find us touching upon the Catechism; that keeps us close to fundamentals. And we'll harp on the Mass, and Holy Communion, and Penance -- because there's really no substitute for the Sacraments as channels of grace. We seldom wax mystical. We're rarely profound -- and that's because we're primarily interested in you who, in your humility and honesty, and bothered by the usual temptations that afflict the normal individual in his daily life, regard yourself as a "Not-So-Holy Joe."
