On Voting: "The punishment of wise men who refuse to take part in the affairs of government is to live under the government of unwise men." - Plato

"The only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is that good men do nothing," - Edmund Burke

On Being Prompt: "Punctuality is the politeness of kings and the duty of gentle people everywhere." - King Louis XVIII

"Americans, I've found, are as polite as any people in the world -- except for one thing. When invited to any gathering, they will arrive persistently, deliberately, and immoderately late... For some guests it is a point of principle to try to be the last to arrive. What on earth is the reason for this extraordinary discourtesy? Basically, it seems to stem from the strange assumption that coming early, or on time, is a tacit admission of social inferiority... By implication, only the social insignificants, the neighborhood nobodies, will be lined up promptly."

- A. J. Cronin

"What can one expect of a day which begins with getting up in the morning?"

- Sorin Hall Echo

The Application

Tomorrow, All Saints Day, is a Holy Day of Obligation. Masses in Sacred Heart will be the same as on Sunday -- 6, 7, 8, 9, 10:15, and 11:15. Be prompt. If we are given the entire day off from classwork, let's not hedge on the small portion of it which God demands of us for His own honor and glory.

Friday is the First Friday of the month -- the day on which we pray for the grace of a Happy Death. Friday is also All Souls Day, and ushers in the month devoted to special remembrance of the faithful departed. Among them are your friends and relatives. Be sure you drop their names into the receptacle provided in each hall that they may share in the fruits of the Novena of Masses beginning on the 6th. Meantime, see that they get your daily Mass, Communion, and Rosary every day throughout the month of November. You're their only hope. Don't let them down!

Quotable

"The older you get, the more you realize that kindness is synonymous with happiness."
- Lionel Barrymore

"Humility is a state of mind in which we get the grace to quit lying to ourselves."
- The Liguorian

"We have never lost a war yet," some like to remark. It should now be added that the winner of an atomic war might find it hard to locate a decent place to hold a victory parade."
- Indiana Catholic And Record.

"Many people are lonely because they build walls instead of bridges."
- Cincinnati Enquirer

"Modesty is the art of encouraging people to find out for themselves how important you are." - Anon.
