LAETARE SUNDAY

FOR THE LEAST OF THESE, MY BRETHERN... This is the theme of the annual collection for the Bishops' Relief Fund which is taken up on Laetare Sunday every year. Again, on Sunday we ask that you be as generous as possible in helping to raise the five million dollars needed to carry on the many works of charity sponsored by the American Bishops.

The Bengal Bouts begin in three more days. Next Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, you may see the best boxers on campus. A $1.00 ticket will enable you to gain admission to all the Bouts. These tickets will be sold door-to-door over the week-end. Off-campus students may purchase tickets at the Knights of Columbus office in the basement of Walsh Hall between 3:00 and 5:00 in the afternoon. BACK THE BENGALS Help the Missions.

LOSER ? ?

There are a million and one ways to lose money. But an off-campus student lost some yesterday or the day before, quite by accident. If you happen to know him, ask him to stop by 116 Dillon.

WHAT IS YOUR VOCATION?

This is the title of the latest paperback to come from the Fides Press. It is the combined work of Joe Maguire and Bro. Andre, S.C. Joe is a familiar figure on campus and has brought out this paperback at a time when many are giving serious thought to their vocation. Copies sell for 95¢ and are available at the Pamphlet Racks in Dillon, Cavanaugh, Howard, and Breen-Phillips.

LAY MISSIONS

The group on campus that is working to encourage interest in Lay Mission activity will attend the 5:10 Mass this evening to pray for their success.

IN YOUR CHARITY

Please pray for the following. Deceased: Anthony Bonden; mother-in-law of Mrs. Urbanski of the Dean of Students Office; sister of Mrs. Kenneth Doty of the Ave Maria; Neil Flinn, '23; Harold McKee, '22; Doris Steiner; uncle of Rev. Owen Duffield, C.P. of Howard. Ill: Uncle of Claude, '60, and Ted Sarphie of Fisher; mother of Tom Weber of Dillon. One Special Intention.

Prayer to Know One's Vocation

O my God, Thou who art the God of wisdom and counsel, Thou who redest in my heart the sincere will to please Thee alone, and to govern myself with regard to my choice of a state of life, entirely in conformity with Thy most holy desire, grant me, by the intercession of the Most Blessed Virgin, my Mother, and of my holy patrons, the grace to know what state I ought to choose, and when known, to embrace it, so that I may be able to pursue and increase Thy Glory, work out my salvation, and merit that heavenly reward which Thou hast promised to those who do Thy holy will. Amen. (Indulgence of 300 days, once a day, Pius X, May 2, 1905)

MANY OF THE ABOVE NAMES will be familiar to the parents of the members of the Junior Class. And to most of you the names of Gen. Collins, John Phelan, Thomas Murray, I.A. O'Shaughnessy, Jefferson Caffery, George Meany, Gen. Gruenther, Clare Luce, Frank Folsom, Robert Murphy, and George Shuster are familiar. On Sunday, the name of another outstanding American Catholic will be added to this list. Together they will constitute a complete roster of those men and women who through the years have been honored as the recipients of Notre Dame's Laetare Medal.

The Laetare Medal is the American counterpart of the "Golden Rose", a Papal honor antedating the 11th century. The name of the recipient is announced each year on the fourth Sunday in Lent, Laetare Sunday.

First awarded in 1883, the selection is made annually by a committee headed by the President of the University. The medal has been worn only by men and women whose genius has ennobled the arts and sciences, illustrated the ideals of the Church, and enriched the heritage of humanity.

REGARDED BY MANY as the most significant annual award conferred upon members of the Catholic laity in the United States, the medal of gold has inscribed in the border the words, "MAGNA EST VERITAS ET PREVALEBIT". (Truth is mighty and will prevail.)

LAST YEAR'S distinguished recipient was also an alumnus of Notre Dame. It is hoped that the time will come when a great many of our alumni are of necessity considered for this honor.
