Body And Soul

Student Nurse Susan Leckrone searched the chart for the 100th time. What else could she do? What else was she looking for? She had taken Kelly's vital signs again and both the temperature and blood pressure were too high.

The doctors had just left. They had quietly explained to Kelly that although she was a high risk patient, the infection near her metal hip joint could only be arrested through surgery.

Now, Kelly lay still and expressionless. Staring at the ceiling. Susan entered the latest readings on the medical chart.

Susan knew she was doing everything a professional nurse could do for her patient. But why didn't it seem enough?

For the last 23 months, St. Vincent's Hospital and Medical Center Nursing School had put Susan through nearly 2000 hours of intense classroom and clinical instruction. She knew she had been well-educated.

The hospital-based school had given her the opportunity to discuss her nursing theories in the classroom. And then to apply them clinically under watchful supervision.

Susan had come to St. Vincent's for its holistic approach to medicine. "While I'm not a Catholic, faith is the most important element in my life, and I wanted to be educated and associated with professionals who addressed the physical, emotional and spiritual well-being of every patient."

But right now, Susan felt helpless. Kelly looked frightened. Susan feared that any comment might be the wrong comment.

While replacing the medical chart on the hook on the end of the bed, Susan noticed a small crumpled book clutched in Kelly's hand.

The student nurse gently loosened Kelly's grip, picked up the book and softly began to read aloud. "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want..."

As she was wheeled out for surgery, Kelly squeezed Susan's hand and smiled gratefully. "You are heaven sent."

Third Sunday of the Year

Follow me and you will have the light of life.

WE ARE---ND VOLUNTEERS!

"Reform your lives! The kingdom of heaven is at hand." Come after me and I will make you fishers of men. --- He called them and immediately they abandoned their boat and father to follow him." Each of us are challenged by these words of Jesus which are a part of today's scripture. Jesus calls me to believe, to reform, to follow him. How can I really answer HIS CALL? If I accept Jesus and His Call, I will try to build His community by reaching out to others, especially the neighbor in need. 16 opportunities to volunteer a bit of your time to reach out to others who need you and in so doing respond to HIS CALL. Maybe, just maybe, at the end of my day, my week, I could ask myself how I responded to HIS CALL? ...when did I see my God in the least of my neighbors. WE ARE ...ND VOLUNTEERS!
